SPOILING A SENSATION.

Tweed's Tenure of Office as Medical Assistant to Hold Good.

The Astonishment of Warden Liscomb on Learning of the Intended Departure of the Ex-Boss.

The startling announcement in the HERALD that the much abused, long suffering, and only partially revenged citizens of New York were in a fair way of having their confidence further abused by the scape of "ex-Boss" Tweed, afforded food for the windest speculations and comments during the he of yesterday. This threatened to abuse the last lingering sense of political office-holding integrity. It was the vision of the straw that would the camel's back, and by rendering prison an absurdity, make honest men of all therees who were able to go abroad. It promised a realization of the old ballad which tells us of the ske who became "a noble lord, when abroad, prange countries for to see." The idea that the great catch of the reform hand should slip through meshes of the net of justice after he was safely sanded, was galling anke to quiet, unsophisticated apple-women and great thought/ul "statesmen" tike the ex. "Foreman of No. 6."

SUCH THINGS MUST NOT HAPPEN. The public first tried to account for the sudden outheity of the scheme or the origin of the sensa-Of course the readers of the HERALD did not marvel that they found this news at their breakst tables, for they are accustomed to having the latest information from all parts of the world served up to them; they demanded to know what earthquake threatened to shake the Commissioners now that they had begun to criminate and "wash their hands of" each other. If, as asserted by one member of that most nonorable Board, there was even the slightest possibility of danger that "the statesman" would escape, then every precaution to prevent it should be redoubled. The mere suggestion of such a possibility should be a sufficient pretext for keeping keen the watchrulness of warden and failers, if this was the result of a quarrel between two members of the commission, there was just as little to be said about the matter as possible; all were to do a deal of thinking. est information from all parts of the world

The Commissioners of Charities and Cor-

At a meeting of the Commissioners of Charities and Correction yesterday morning, Mr. Stern made a motion that he be allowed to prepare a scely in writing to the allegations made by Mr. Lambeer last Saturday with reference to the custedy of Tweed at Blackwell's Island, which shall embody a complete statement of the matter. The request being granted, the motion was laid on the table. The report will be ready, it is reported, by Best Saturday.

CRUELTY TO ANIMALS.

Ammarl Meeting of the Society for Its Prevention-The Work Done-The Su-perintendent and Treasurer's Report-The Need of an Asylum for Destitut

Bogs.

A meeting was called vesterday of the American Society for the Prevention of Cruelty to Animals for the purpose of amending the code of bylaws and of receiving the report for the eight months ending January last. The attendance of members was quite numerous. The President, Mr. Henry Bergh, sceupied the chair.

The first business in order was a proposal to amend the bylaws by fixing the date of paying dues at the beginning of January, instead of May, as beretofore.

The Superintendent of the Society, Mr. T. W. Hartfield, presented his report for the past eight months. This was necessary because of the change of the Society's year, which formerly was from May to May, but now dates from January.

The report states that during the period mentioned the society has prosecuted 320 cases; that residents of localities are becoming more inter-ested in the work, and that in places where shock-residents of localities are becoming more intersected in the work, and that in places where shocking cases of inhumanity to dumb animals were of frequent occurrence the interference of agents is seldom required. In meny small towns where agents have only been appointed a few mouths cruelty is gradually becoming an evil of the past, and horses, calves and other animals are treated with much immunity.

During the same period 500 horses and other animals were humanely destroyed by officers of the society. The ambulances have been called out on 138 occasions to remove sick and disabled horses from the streets to their stables or to the veternary surgeons. Hundreds of infirm and worn out animals have also been condemned by the veternary surgeons attached to the society, in this city and in Brooklyn, and destroyed. Fourning from temporary disability, have been ordered out of harness and sent home for rest or treatment. Many complaints have been received against owners of horses neglecting to provide them with necessary food and shelter. In some cases, on investigation, the owners were found in as poor condition as their dumb servants, and in others, the poor beasts were feel to starve while heir innowan masters.

were arrested and punished by fine and imprisonment. The following synopsis of cases is given:—For crueily beating horses or other animals with whites, clubs or other weapons, 26; for carrying animals in a cruei or inhuman manner, 20; for driving isme, sick or disabled borses, 213; for overloading or overdriving houses or mules, for acts of crueity to cattle, dogs, cats, poultry, &c., 16; for dog or cock fighting, 9; for using bit burss or other instruments of torture, 1; for starving or abandoning horses or other animals, 16; for manciously muliating and wounding animals with knives, &c., 8; fotal number of arrests since 1806, 244. The report went on to give a brief resume of Mr. Bergh's tour through the various States establishing societies, and gave the results of this tour.

The Treasurer's account showed, during the year, rescipts of $35,735,855 and expenditures of $19,246 12, which includes a sum of $6,035,35 for expenses of alterations on headquarters.

The superintendent stated that the society had a standing offer to superintend the collection of all stray does and homeless animals found in the streets of the city if the city authorities will furnish a lot of ground near the kast or North Rivers, and erect the reon suitable buildings; all dogs or other animals condemned as worthless to be mish a lot of ground near the East or North Rivers, and erect thereon suitable buildings; all dogs or other animals condemned as worthless to be humanly destroyed, and others fed and cared for until their owners claim them or homes are found for them. There were daily proofs of the urgent need of such a shelter.

ORITUARY. Judge J. W. Edmonds. This gentleman, whose reputation as a jurist is not confined to this country, but extends to Europe, died at his residence in Irving place on Sunday. Judge Edmonds had reached a venerable age, having been born in Hudson, in this State, on March 13, 1799. He was educated at Union College, from where he graduated with honors in 1816. He immediately began to study law and was admitted to the Ear when only twenty years old. In the year 1820 Judge Edmonds came to this city and began the practice of his profession. was a strong-willed man, and his profession was the one in which he earnestly desired to rise. Clients soon found him out, and so did his professional brethren; and his name real solutions and "west turn hand or put to criminate and the put to criminat was mentioned as that of a clear-minded, studious lawyer. At that time the Bar was more compact than at present. It was dominated by lawyers who had reputations also as politicians, and there was

Court of Appeals Judge Edmonds has been a practitioner in this city, and his cidents have demanded all his time. No lawyer was more closely confided in by clients and no one gave more cause for trust. He was quick to understand a case and as quick to pass upon its merits, but his career on the bench always kept him from nadue haste. His emergences into the public view have been few since 1853, and they have been only to direct attention to some political or humanitarian purpose, or to try to clear away some of the mistiness of Spiritualism. It will be remembered that his last appearance as an apostle of the new laith was to promulgate a letter that he said he had received from Judge Peckham, one of the passengers of the lost Vine du Havre.

Judge Edmonds was in appearance a lawyer—one whose time was passed in the dryest of the dry studies of his profession. He was thin and sailow, but his tail form and verbrable appearance made him attractive and even imposing. He was kindy hattred, and to see pain inflicted upon another gave him pain. This caused him—when he saw the opportunity, in 1802, for the accomplishment of the scheme—to draw up a petition to Congress to emancipate the slaves as a war measure. Almost with his last breath the Judge asked that his funeral services should be held at St. George's church, of whose pastor, Dr. Tyng, he was long an intimate nis has breath the studge asked that his funeral services should be held at St. George's church, of whose pastor, Dr. Tyng, he was long an intimate friend. After the funeral services in this city, at two P. M. to-day Judge Edmonds' body will be taken to his birthplace (Hudson) for interment.

She was 388 tons, built of iron, five years old, and owned in Boston by Messrs, Nash, Spalding & Co. It will be remembered that she was built to carry moiasses in tanks and was very successful. She ayeraged about six trips each season, delivering her cargo in prime order, at a saving on each voyage of about $5,000 as compared with the old method. The vessel proved herself to be a staunch sea boat, having passed through some of the heaviest gales known to the trade, her evenly distributed cargo adding very much to the steadings of the hull in heavy weather. She never teaked any until her last trip, and it is believed if her steam pump had been in good working order, the vessel could have been kept afford at the time of the late disaster.

HALIPAX, April 6—The brig Leander (Br). Caron, from St Jago for St Johns, NF, put in here yesterday, leaking. Reports she was in the ice off Scatary eight days. She will be repaired.

During an easterly gale a few days ago a wreck was driven ashore on Scatary Island, CB, consisting of the stern frame wheel, chains, tiller, &c., of a yessel of about 600 tons. As the name was completely obliterated, nothing could be surmised of the vessel, her crew, cargo or destination. New Haven, April 6-There is a heavily laden schr ground at Mill River.

aground at Mill River.

Portland, Me, April 6—During a heavy snow storm here this morning the schr Fannie A Bailey, of Portsmouth, valued at $15,000, went ashore in Sumonton's Cove. Her cargo of sugar for the Grand Trunk Railway is valued at $24,000; insured in the Phenix and Atlantic Muttat Companies.

The schr Volant, of Bangor, from Calais, with lumber, ran ashore on Hog Island Ledge, but was pulled off and towed up, leaking badiy.

We are under obligations to the purser of the steam-ship Merrimack for his promptness in torwarding our files and despatches from Rio Janeiro. &c. Purser J R Vandusen, of the steamship Tybee from St Domingo City, &c, has our thanks for the prompt delivery

$5,000.

BANGOR, April 4—The ice in the Penobscot River is still firm, and as there is no treshet to aid in sending it out vessels will not probably be able to reach this city for a week to come.

SROAL SPOT IN SAN FRANCISCO BAY, CALIFORNIA. Professor George Davidson, of the United States Coast Survey, has issued the following:—
In the detailed survey of San Francisco Bay, by Assistant Gershom Bradford, a ridge having less than seven fathoms upon it has been developed. By authority of Captain C P Patterson, superintendent of the Coast Survey, this notice is issued in advance of the regular sailing directions, which will be drawn up when the work of examination is completed. The ridge stretches in an irregular curved line from the northwest point of Alcatrax Island to the eastern end of the Presidio Shoal, and has an average width of 700 yards within the seven-fathom line. The depth of water upon it is not regular, and the shoalest spot yet discovered has but four fathoms of water, over gravelly bottom, at the mean of the lowest tides; but at the lowest spring tides there will be only 25 feet upon it. This spot lies in the regular track of vessels and is a danger to those of large draught. It is about 100 yards long, and the water around it deepens gradually to 6 fathoms S by W and N by B. It lies S 59 deg E (SE by E & E) by compass, distant 700 yards from Bird Rock, and S 62 deg W (SW by W & W) by compass, distant 1,250 yards from Alcatraz Light. The following ranges also locale it—Shag Rock on with the eastern tangent of Peninsula Point; and Boneta Light over the first small rise back of the irow of Point Diablo passes one dith of a mile south of the shoal spot.

WAUKESHA. WIS., MARGH 5, 1874.—DEAR SIR—IT is with great pleasure that I address you this note, expressive of my opinion of the BATHENDA MINERAL SPRING WATER. My opinion has not been formed hastily, but from close observation of its effects in various forms of disease, smong which is one from which I hastily, but from close observation of its effects in various forms of disease, smong which is one from which I have not been sometimed to be disease of the water, both internally and externally a front of one of water, both internally and externally I found my self-water, both internally and externally and one of the kidneys, bladder and confusion organization well known to require any profess from more organization of diseases the programment of the system, especially including the liver, skin, &c., and it must therefore necessarily prove a great remedial agent in removing a vast amount of diseases to which the whole beaman family is heir. I feel it, in my deciming years of life, to be one of the greatest temporal blessings to be able to live in close proximity to its bealing waters. Very respectively, A. KENDRICK, M. D.
